

Ever wonder what your child is thinking?

Volunteer to help us figure it out.

UC BERKELEY
Developmental Labs

Now enrolling babies, kids, and teens.

We study child development in children between approximately 4 months and 17 years of age. Our research studies typically involve observing how your child responds to objects, faces, patterns, or words. You may stay with your child for the entire duration of the study.

Our studies offer various prizes, cash, or gift cards as compensation!

developmentallabs.berkeley.edu
childstudies@berkeley.edu

UC Berkeley Developmental Labs: Making important discoveries for over 20 years